Using the questions raised at the International College and analysing the reality of the Movement and the Church in the world of today, the ERI set up 3 Satellite Teams, 2 of which are permanent: Pedagogy and Reflection & Research and 1 which is temporary, Christian Formation. Furthermore, they decided to create two work groups on sexuality, one from Europe and the other from the Americas. These two groups merged to form the Evangelising Sexuality Satellite Team. These Satellite Teams were approved at the International College held in Bordeaux in 2013 and began their work in the October of that same year. Hereafter follows the aims, composition and tasks of each Satellite Team currently active:

Christian Formation Team

Aim
The aim is to configure a basic catechetical plan for Teams of Our Lady members so that they can deepen their knowledge about our religion and our Church.
The point of departure is the Movement’s concern to fill in the gaps in certain Team members’ Christian formation by offering them the possibility of enriching their Christian life. Christian education is to be understood as an integral and permanent process, which a) carries the person or the couple to different stages of maturity in their faith and in their spiritual, pastoral and community life; b) begins at a certain moment of their life and never ends; c) must be constantly nourished in the doctrinal, pastoral and spiritual perspective and d) answers the necessity of bearing witness to the Gospel in our current world.
This team’s work began on October 12th, 2013 at a meeting in Bogota, Columbia.
Tasks for 2014-15

A Christian Formation plan has already been drawn up using the methodology or basic elements of a formation process based on the theology of The Road to Emmaus. The Teams is currently working on the content of eight classes: Old Testament, New Testament, Christology, Ecclesiology, Sacraments, Liturgy, Spirituality and Morality. The Bible, the Tradition and the Magisterium of the Church are sources of Faith for the accomplishment of the vocation and mission of every Christian. We, as Teams of Our Lady members, must know and better understand these sources of Christian faith.

Evangelising Sexuality Team

Aim

The aim is to help Teams of Our Lady couples to look at sexuality in a new way and also to invite them to link the different themes connected to sexuality to their Conjugal Dialogue.
Tasks for 2014-15
In Bogota at the end of 2013, an American work group made up of couples from Brazil, Trinidad and Tobago, the USA and Columbia got together to reflect on the topic of evangelising sexuality. This temporary group worked together for a year, defining the perspective, topics and central theme with which the future Evangelising Sexuality Satellite Team will work. Simultaneously, another work group was formed in Europe at Fatima, Portugal with couples from Spain, France and Belgium. Then in Paris in October 2014, the two work groups merged and the new Evangelising Sexuality Satellite Team started.
After the Paris meeting and a month of working via Internet, this Satellite Team has defined the topics to be treated, the structure of the document and the manner in which to address couples so that they can best take advantage of their Conjugal Dialogue.
